'You Know Are A Runner' has been 'created' by Richard McChesney, a runner from New Zealand with a great sense of humor, but an acute inability to draw anything more than a basic stick man. The real talent are the book illustrators - Brighty and Brock who have taken the quotes and captions and delivered exceptional illustrations that will help the reader to know whether he or she really is 'a runner'.

Not really what I was looking for, but I read through it and it was OK.

You Know You Are A Runner, presents a humorous look of those who go out and run. It's funny even if you're not a runner, maybe even funnier. It hits home with those who are dedicated runners and put running ahead of most everything else in life. You know, the ones they can't close the casket lid on because both their legs won't straighten out at the same time. Sorry about that. Enjoy the quips in the book and don't take it personally, even if you see yourself in much of what is said. Have fun with the book and enjoy your next run.

Ordered as a gift, but when I browsed through the book I realized I would want to keep gift shopping ... laughs would be because the reader is supposed to laugh, not because any of the cartoon thoughts are just that superbly rendered. Bottomline: okay, but not "special"

This was a gift for my 17 year old cross country runner grandson. He opened it, read it over again four times, carried it around and then read it some more! He then said he is going to let his teammates read it! He chuckled and laughed out loud, saying "true, true." A perfect and inexpensive gift for any runner! Cannot wait to get him Volume 2 when published.

I'm no runner, but it didn't matter because I had not had a book tickle my funny bone like this for the longest time. Going immediately into my favorites stash. Excellent!

This book was a nice idea but the pages aren't filled. Seems a bit on the cheaper side. The publisher should have filled every page.

My boss says this is him to a T.
