I love this little notebook so much! Every time I flip through the pages I see something new that I didn't notice before. It's very useful for traveling to Montreal. It has city maps, a pull out metro map, useful street index, personal data sheet you can list your info if it gets lost, transportation numbers, a before going sheet, travel planning/memo sheet, measures and conversions sheet, international sizes reference, blank pages you can write your travel experiences, six distinct tabs where you can list places you like to visit, an extra six tabs where you can use the tab stickers provided (with different topics such as Museums, Theater, Getting Around, Markets, Words, Galleries, Musts, etc. AND blank 20 tab stickers for your own topics), 32 removable sheets for loose notes, and 12 translucent sheets to trace your route on the map in the notebook, and three different colored string bookmarks. There's even a pocket at the back to hold metro tickets or itinerary. The notebook is a small size for travel and it's a hard and durable cover. I'm speechless at how amazing this book is to travel with. What a great concept that actually works. It's going to keep everything organized and I'm going to record every day of my trip in here!

My only complaint about City Notebooks is that they don't have them for enough cities!! I've wanted to buy one for a while, but I haven't found myself in London or Paris and plan on it anytime soon. So when we booked our trip to Montreal I was very very excited. Gave this to my friend as a gift for the trip. We used the maps frequently and he took many notes of the sights and restaurants that we visited along the way!

When I went to Montreal a couple of years ago, I used the maps in this little notebook a lot, because I had no internet connection on the street unless I wanted roaming charges. Fits right in your pocket. Plus I just love moleskine notebooks anyway.

Fantastic. Love the metro map.

this is the 3rd moleskine that i've acquired (London + Paris), they have all made it easire to get the best out of a city, help friends and never lose a great place, book or CD - must haves!!
