Econometrics By Example

Synopsis

The second edition of this bestselling textbook retains its unique learning-by-doing approach to the study of econometrics. Rather than relying on complex theoretical discussions and complicated mathematics, this book explains econometrics from a practical point of view by walking the student through real-life examples, step by step. The second edition has been fully revised and updated, and features two brand new chapters on Quantile Regression Modeling and Multivariate Regression Models, new extended examples accompanied by real-life data, and new student exercises at the end of each chapter.

Customer Reviews

"This innovative textbook continues to be an invaluable resource for all students of econometrics." - Frank J. Fabozzi, EDHEC Business School, France "Gujarati makes state-of-the-art econometric procedures accessible to readers with limited technical backgrounds. As usual, the writing is crisp and clear, making it a pleasure to read." - Michael Grossman, City University of New York Graduate Center, USA "Gujarati's wonderful text provides a no-clutter way of learning intermediate econometrics with solid real-world examples." - Jin Suk Park, University of Durham, UK "This comprehensive book covers the basic and the most important advanced statistical techniques that economists and social scientists need to conduct empirical research. The techniques are discussed in a sequence that demonstrates their connections, their strengths and weaknesses, as well as their applicability and appropriateness for different types of data. The discussions are accessible and clear." - Paul Solano, University of Delaware, USA "Dr Gujarati's lucid, simple and extraordinary style of exposition makes students learn critical concepts quickly. His book is essential for econometrics classes all over the world." - Kishore G. Kulkarni, Distinguished Professor of Economics and Editor, Indian Journal of Economics and Business

Damodar Gujarati is Emeritus Professor of Economics, US Military Academy, West Point, New York, USA. He has over 40 years of teaching and writing experience. As well as his bestselling textbooks he has published many articles in leading economics and statistics journals. He has Visiting Professorships at leading universities in the UK, Australia, Singapore and India.
