Dr. Liang earned his Ph.D. in Computer Science from the University of Okalahoma in 1991, and an MS and BS in Computer Science from Fudan University in Shanghai, China, in 1986 and 1983. Prior to joining Armstrong, he was an associate professor in computer science at Purdue University in Fort Wayne, where he twice received the Excellence in Research award.   Dr. Liang was trained in theoretical computer science. He was active in graph algorithms from 1990 to 1995 and published more than ten papers in several established journals such as SIAM Journal on Computing, Discrete Applied Mathematics, Acta Informatics, and Information Processing Letters. Since 1996, he has devoted to writing texts and published more than thirty books with Prentice Hall. His popular computer science texts are widely adopted in the world. Dr. Liang was elected a Java Champion in 2005 by Sun Microsystems. He has given lectures on Java internationally.

Fine. Ended up dropping the class though.

Complete garbage. I have the solid misfortune of being required to use this cash-grab for a class and I'm truly sorry if you do also.The instruction is poor, incomplete, and the exercises are designed to undermine what you've just learned. Insert a space in a string literal? "Compiler Error." The code isn't wrong, but Revel will tell you that it is. Does your code work in Eclipse (or your IDE of choice)? "Logic Error". Good luck figuring that out.This awful 'textbook' actually asked the same question four times and returned a "Compiler Error" if you didn't use the method it wanted. Check out the screen captures. They are from two different exercise sets in the same chapter.Revel leaves you second-guessing yourself in a futile attempt to understand what you've done wrong when in fact your only crime is understanding how to speak and write English. One problem threw a "Compiler Error" if the word "Wednesday" was not misspelled precisely the same way as the Revel authors misspelled it. I'm told that particular issue has been fixed. Thanks for that.How would you like to be a TA for a course that uses this inept attempt at a textbook?

Because of , I don't have a teacher, so I can't practice it, thanks.
